

Can't Recall An Extra Wife, Says Mackay

Former Yale Athlete Wonders if He's Amnesia Victim and Forgot Marriage to Former Follies Girl

Names Him in Divorce

Shows a 1915 Newark License; Connecticut Bride Sure He's Not a Bigamist

Donald Francis Mackay, former Yale football and baseball player and well known man about town, whom two women claim as their husband, may possibly be a victim of amnesia.

Olga Hartling declares she is wife No. 1, and filed suit for divorce in this county last January to prove it. She was a Ziegfeld chorus girl when Mackay met her.

The former Mrs. J. M. Galloway, a divorcee, who was married to the Yale athlete at Westport, Conn., last December, stands by her husband and stoutly maintains that he is innocent of duplicity.

Mackay himself states that he does not remember any marriage ceremony with Miss Hartling, and so answers her divorce suit. While denying the wedding specifically in the divorce papers, he qualified his legal reply with a verbal doubt—he did not remember.

The State of Connecticut, through its representative at Westport, has taken no formal step to present a bigamy charge, and probably will not under the present law.

These were the chief developments yesterday in the matrimonial tangle in which Mackay is playing the central character.

Kept Marriage Secret

There was one significant point brought out in the investigation of Mackay's affairs, however, which showed that he apparently took all possible precautions to keep his marriage to Mrs. Galloway a secret. He did not inform even the immediate members of his family of the occurrence until some time afterward, according to one of his intimates.

Not even his mother, Mrs. George D. Mackay, of 115 East 11th St., said she did not know of the marriage until some time after it was performed.

Mackay, it is reported, says he cannot recall a marriage in May, 1915, to Olga Hartling, a member of the "Ziegfeld Follies," yet at the apartment house, 245 West Fifty-first Street, where the chorus girl lived for nine months, she frequently stated that Mackay was her husband. There is also a marriage license issued in Newark on May 24, 1915, a marriage certificate showing that the ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward W. Moore, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, and a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Olga Hartling Mackay against him in this county. In the face of this evidence, the Yale man still persists that he does not remember the occurrence.

Friends of Miss Hartling say that the couple did not live harmoniously in the Fifty-first Street apartment, where she was known by her maiden name. Although it is said they separated several months after the wedding, investigation made at the apartment building yesterday disclosed that a man bearing a strong resemblance to Mackay (who was described as a good looking chap, well dressed) was seen in Miss Hartling's company up to 1918, three years after the Newark incident. Mackay is candid in admitting that he knew the girl still residing in the apartment, but is not sure that he is the same man who was associated with the young actress for the past five years.

Inquiries at the present residence of Mackay, 30 East Fifty-eighth Street, yesterday, resulted in the information that Mr. and Mrs. Mackay had left their apartment in the day, ostensibly for a trip out of town, and they carried baggage and departed in a taxicab.

No Action in Connecticut

No action has been taken by the Connecticut authorities to prosecute Mackay for bigamy, according to Harry R. Sherwood, of Westport, who is a grand juror of Fairfield County, and in that capacity would issue a warrant for arrest. Sherwood said last night that no complaint had been made to him and until one had been presented he would not take the initiative. The laws of Connecticut, at present, make it compulsory for the prosecutor to prove that the defendant had lived with his wife in the state after marriage.

It was learned yesterday on excellent authority that Mrs. Olga Hartling Mackay filed suit for divorce in New York County January 13, this year, her attorney of record being George C. Norton. She asserts that she was married to Mackay in Newark, May 25, 1915, and that between 1916 and 1920 Mackay was guilty of improper conduct with one Jane Doe, whose name is known to the plaintiff and will be submitted to the court on trial of the action. Mackay was served with the papers at the Yale Club, January 28. In his answer, filed by Collin, Wells & Hughes, February 25, Mackay denied the marriage and misconduct.

WHEREVER STEAM OR SAIL CAN TAKE YOU

you can be assured of quick and ample funds by taking with you a supply of Travelers' Cheques. And when you come in to buy them, leave your valuables in our safe deposit vaults, and your securities in the care of our Trust Department. Thus you can, with a single gesture, bid Business and Care farewell.

THE BANK OF AMERICA

ESTABLISHED 1812
MANHATTAN AND BROOKLYN

How to Invest $175 or Less

We suggest that you put it in any savings bank in New York and leave it there.

Let your interest accumulate and try and add to the principal until you have more money. It will be safe in a savings bank, and when your principal has become larger you can consider investing it.

We do not ordinarily sell the Mortgage Certificates guaranteed by the Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Company in amounts less than $200.

Title Guarantee & Trust Co.

Capital $6,000,000. Surplus $11,000,000.

176 Broadway, New York.
137 West 125th St., New York.
370 E. 149th St., New York.

1 Dead, 6 Shot In Varotta Revenge Feud

(Continued from page one)

wounded, will undergo an operation to-day for removal of a bullet embedded in her hip.

One of those men is said to have been involved in bootlegging enterprises and to have a long police record. The police are working on the theory that severe penalties awaiting participants in the Varotta kidnapping and fear of others possessing information of importance in that case, led several of a gang of desperadoes to decide on elimination of those most to be feared.

Detective Fiaschetti, of the Italian squad, said last night that arrests in connection with the kidnapping and the large hail set for men held has terrorized the gangs involved in such matters and resulted in threats of death to scores of Italians who are supposed to be likely to testify.

Detectives Joseph and Whalen of the Clinton Street station searched five tenements in the district where the shooting took place for two men who participated in the fight, according to information obtained by them from bystanders.

Woman Dies in Flames; Another Hurt in Leap

One woman was killed and another was injured last night when fire spread through a three-story frame building at 351 Fourteenth Street, Hoboken, N. J.

Mrs. Carrie Darke, forty-two years old, who lived on the third floor front, is the dead woman. She was found sitting in a chair, suffocated by the smoke.

The injured woman is Mrs. Catherine Muller, thirty-four years old. She lived in the rear apartment on the third floor. She jumped to a one-story extension adjoining the building and is in St. Mary's Hospital with a fractured leg and a possible fracture of the skull.

Because there are garages and manufacturing plants in the neighborhood a second alarm was sent in. The damage to the building is estimated at $10,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

Operate on Anastasia Again

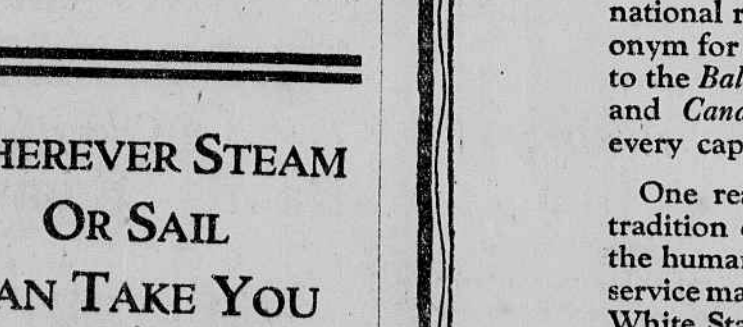

PAXIS, June 16.—Princess Anastasia, the American-born wife of Prince Christopher of Greece, to-day underwent another operation, performed by Dr. Du Bouché, who is assisted by Dr. Robert Turner. It was reported this evening that the Princess was resting comfortably. The surgeons in attendance expect that this will be the last operation required.

PLAZA ART and AUCTION ROOMS

EDWARD P. O'REILLY AUCTIONEER
5 and 7 EAST 59th STREET (At 5th Ave.)
Telephone Plaza 8444-5408

EXECUTOR'S AUCTION SALE

By Order of Central Union Trust Co.
of New York
Executor for the Estate of Adele E. Flint with additions
Important Old English Sheraton and Chippendale Cabinets, Desks, Dining Chairs, Tables, Velour Suites, Silver, Draperies, Rugs, Carpets, Books, Linen, Etc.
Gallery of Oil Paintings
Rare Old Portraits and Landscapes of Various Schools
SALE TODAY (Friday) June 17-18
At 2 P. M. each day
Exhibition daily until time of sale

WHEREVER STEAM OR SAIL CAN TAKE YOU

you can be assured of quick and ample funds by taking with you a supply of Travelers' Cheques. And when you come in to buy them, leave your valuables in our safe deposit vaults, and your securities in the care of our Trust Department. Thus you can, with a single gesture, bid Business and Care farewell.

THE BANK OF AMERICA

ESTABLISHED 1812
MANHATTAN AND BROOKLYN

Says Beauvais Took Food to Mrs. Stillman

(Continued from page one)

could not remember what was in them. To the best of her recollection Mr. Stillman was not at Pleasantville at all between Christmas, 1917, and March, 1918.

Mary Kelly, whose evidence was the most sensational of the day, formerly was a maid in the employ of the Stillmans. She was in Ireland when divorce proceedings began and came back to give testimony. Her presence in court came as a surprise, because Bernard Kelly, who she alleged to have shown the letter Exhibit B, testified yesterday that he had no idea he had seen her two weeks ago.

Miss Kelly gave her address as 502 East 136th Street, and said she had been with Mrs. Stillman both at 9 East Seventy-second Street and at Pleasantville.

Wedding Ring Usually on Table

Asked whether she ever saw Mrs. Stillman wear her wedding ring, she testified that she usually lay on her dressing table, but that sometimes she wore a plain band ring with the initials "P. B." inscribed inside. She frequently saw Mrs. Beauvais at Pleasantville.

She admitted that she had identified the handwriting of the letter described as Exhibit B as being that of the Indian. From this point on her evidence became contradictory.

"Did you ever show the letter to Bernard Kelly?" she was asked on cross-examination.

"When did you show it to him?" "I never showed it to him," she testified.

"Did you ever show any letter to Bernard Kelly?" "Well, there was a letter written by Mrs. Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman dated February 11, 1918."

"How could you remember that date?" "Well, I remember it because, in addition to the date, it contained a reference to red and blue ink."

"Are you positive that this was the letter you showed to Kelly?" "Yes."

"Will you swear you never showed the letter to Bernard Kelly?" "Yes, I swear."

How did you happen to see these two letters?" "I saw the February letter lying open on the desk top and the Exhibit B letter was open on the bureau."

Letters Were Not Concealed On cross-examination it developed that on the two occasions when she saw the letters the door was open and anyone could have walked in and read them. When asked if she had ever seen any other writing by Beauvais, Miss Kelly said she was familiar with the two inscriptions inside of a pair of moccasins belonging to Guy.

The writing, she believed, was in Beauvais's hand and the text was: "I hope Guy will always be good to his mother and I hope Guy will some day know his father."

Margaret McDonough, formerly the nurse of Alexander Stillman and now employed by C. E. Dodge, of Riverdale, N. Y., testified that she had worked with the Stillmans, both at 270 Park Avenue, and at Pleasantville. Mrs. Stillman, Alexander, Fred Beauvais and a Miss Fagin all lived together in the blue cottage, she said. They were on the upper story and on the ground floor were Guy and his nurse, according to her testimony. She swore that one morning she was passing through the hall on the second floor and saw Mrs. Stillman in her kimono go from the bedroom to her room. She looked in the bedroom and saw that the bed had not been occupied. Mrs. Stillman showed no signs of embarrassment, although the door was wide open, she said. Proceeding to Beauvais's room, the witness added, she looked in and saw that the bed had been slept in and that the guide's pajamas were lying across it.

Colonel Rand questioned her about handwriting. She said she had seen what she thought to be Beauvais's writing on the envelopes of two letters. Under cross-examination it came out that she had been given the letters to post and had observed the writing. She denied that she could positively identify it after this lapse of time as the same writing on the moccasins belonging to Guy.

Mrs. Stillman was jubilant at the end of the day. She considered the testimony, taken as a whole, to be strongly noticeable to-day, to the disappointment of hundreds of persons who fought for a glimpse of her. She wore a camel's hair sport coat, wide blue hat, which she was wearing since she bought it here, and a blue pinstriped skirt. As she left her car in the morning a bouquet of wild flowers was thrust into her hands.

Another incident was the presence in the crowd of a lunatic who insisted that he was Napoleon Bonaparte and that he must rescue Mrs. Stillman. He had a letter, he said, which contained a proposal of marriage which he was sure she would accept. His importunities were lost on the men who guard the entrance to the hearing room and he was speedily shuffled from sight.

James Brown Potter motored over to the home of Mr. Mack to-day to see his daughter. He did not go with her to the hearing, but awaited her return and finally was driven back by her to his Tuxedo Park home. His only comment to reporters was:

"Mrs. Stillman has been a devoted daughter and a wonderful mother. I am proud to be her father."

To-morrow's session will be devoted to the testimony of Hugh L. Russell, the Buffalo osteopath, who is to undergo severe questioning at the hands of the State's attorneys. The hearing then will adjourn until June 28.

The Stage Door

The Neighborhood Playhouse Company, which has been producing "The Harlequinade" and "A Night in the Tropics" at the Little Theatre, has invited the company to the city to be its guests at today's matinee.

To-night will mark the 500th consecutive performance of "The Harlequinade" at the Little Theatre.

In honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the Vassar Alumnae Association, Edna St. Vincent Millay has written a play, "The Lamp and the Bell," which will be presented to-morrow night at Vassar's outdoor theater. The entire cast is made up of Vassar alumnae, dating from the '90s to 1921.

Adolph Klausner announces that he will produce "The End of the World," a comedy by Janet A. Fairbank, this fall.

Sidney Blackmar has been engaged by Sam H. Harris for "Varying shores," one of the Zoo Akina plays listed for an early production.

Adele Rolland has returned to her part of the French farce in "Ladies Night" at the Little Theatre.

Isabel Allen has been added to the cast of "Mime, Milo," the Hatton comedy to be produced by the Shuberts.

"Autumn Fires," by Gustav Wied, English text by Benjamin F. Glazer, will continue for another week at the Provincetown Theater, with the exception of Sunday and Monday.

"The Love Letter" is the title of the opera in which had the Dillingham firm which has been showing at the Greenwich Village Theater, will move into the Frazer Theater on Sunday.

Police on Trail Of Slayer Who Stabbed Kaber

Cleveland Detective Hurries to Ohio Town in Search of One of the Assassins Named by Mrs. Colavito

Widow to Fight for Life

Attorney Announces Mother and Daughter Are Preparing for Trial for Murder

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

CLEVELAND, June 16.—Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, will fight the murder charges against them. This became evident to-day when Francis Foulson, their attorney, announced that he would demand a continuance of their hearings, set for June 28, until the September term of court. They are two of the four women charged with first degree murder as the result of the killing of Dan Kaber, Lakewood publisher. He was Mrs. Kaber's husband and Miss McArdle's stepfather.

Foulson's statement, quashed rumors that Mrs. Kaber was willing to tell everything.

Detectives all day were hot on the trail of one of the alleged assassins who murdered Kaber in his Lake Avenue home on July 18, 1919. Mooney left suddenly late Wednesday after receiving information that one of the men named by Mrs. Emma Colavito as Kaber's actual slayers was in hiding in another Ohio city. The name of the town was withheld.

Mooney also had information regarding the location of Kaber's diamond ring and watch. These were delivered to Mrs. Colavito by Mrs. Kaber, two weeks after the murder. Mrs. Colavito gave them to a friend of the actual assassin, who was threatening her with death if she did not get more of the $5,000 alleged to have been promised by Mrs. Kaber for the death of her husband.

Mrs. Emma Colavito sent for County Prosecutor Stanton and told him that she would plead guilty if the charge against her were reduced from first to second degree murder. Stanton informed her that he had no power to make any change.

City attorneys to-day were completing the analysis of the two bottles of "medicine" sold by Mrs. Colavito to Pasquale Julian. Preliminary analysis revealed poison, but no arsenic. After Julian reported that Mrs. Colavito sold "medicine" to other families, detectives were ordered to investigate all recent deaths in the Mayfield Road district where the woman lived.

Missouri Job for Osborne

Governor Offers Him Wardenship of Penitentiary

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 16.—Governor Hyde to-day tendered the appointment as Warden of the Missouri Penitentiary to Thomas Mott Osborne, former Warden of Sing Sing, N. Y. Osborne told the Governor he would give his answer to-morrow. In a statement several days ago, Osborne said he might accept the position if he were given full power to run the institution as he saw fit.

Missouri's penal law provides for a board of five members to administer the affairs of the Penitentiary.

Lost in Chinatown, Samaritan Cheated Her, Says Dancer

Chance Escort Accused of Swindling Woman Out of $1,150 After Helping Her "Beat the Races" Awhile

Frank Perino, forty-two years old, of 1212 Fifth Street, Brooklyn, was indicted in General Sessions yesterday on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree. In default of $2,500 bail he was remanded to the Tombs.

Irene Albeasca, twenty-six years old, of 1990 Third Avenue, a toe dancer, accused him of swindling her out of $1,150.

Miss Albeasca told the grand jury that she first met Perino when she was lost in Chatham Square several months ago. She said that as she started to follow directions given her by a Chinese man she was approached by Perino, who introduced himself and told her that it was dangerous to talk to Chinese in that section.

The complainant said that Perino escorted her home and on the way told her about horse racing and assured her that all races were "fixed." He offered to tell her the winners a day in advance, she said, and did this with success. But after she had won a small sum Perino is alleged to have spoken to her of those who received "fixes" and that he was lost. Later he told her, according to the complaint, of the Protective Gamblers' Association, an organization which Perino is alleged to have secured paid fines in the Mayfield Road district where the woman lived.

James K. Hackett to Receive Medal of Legion of Honor

PARIS, June 16.—The Legion of Honor is to be conferred upon James K. Hackett, the American actor. The insignia will be presented at the Ministry of Fine Arts next Saturday.

Mr. Hackett will be the first English speaking actor to receive the distinction. He has been bestowed, however, on the Russian singer, St. Chalyapin, and upon M. Mavelli, the Italian tragedian.

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES

NEW AMSTERDAM West 42nd St. Box 915
MATS WED & SAT 5:00-8:25
ZIEGFELD SUCCESS
HARILEY MILLER
LEON ERROL
GLOBE THEATRE
SEAT SALE NOW
ZIEGFELD SUCCESS
OPENS TUES. JUNE 21
POD MAT. WED. JUNE 22
MALCOLM STRAUSS PHOTO DRAMA
THE TWICE BORN WOMAN
HIPODROME, NEXT WED. NIGHT
GLOBE THEATRE
THE SHOW OF THE SEASONS
TAKING THE SHOW OF THE SEASONS
FANTASY & THE SEASONS
A Musical Extravaganza
MOVES NEXT MON. TO SAN HARRIS THEATRE
GEORGE M. COHAN
A LAUGH IN EVERY LINE!
A. L. BRANGLER'S TWOLITTLE GIRLS IN BLUE
MALCOLM STRAUSS PHOTO DRAMA
THE TWICE BORN WOMAN
HIPODROME, NEXT WED. NIGHT
HUDSON THEATRE
LAST 2 WEEKS
GEORGE M. COHAN
AS THE VAGABOND IN THE TAVERN
LYCEUM West 43rd St. Box 820
LAST 2 WEEKS
"THE GOLD DIGGERS"
SUNSHINE THEATRE
Next Monday Night
SUNSHINE THEATRE
SUNSHINE THEATRE
SUNSHINE THEATRE
SUNSHINE THEATRE
MALCOLM STRAUSS PHOTO DRAMA
THE TWICE BORN WOMAN
HIPODROME, NEXT WED. NIGHT
KLAW THEATRE
LARRIMORE-NICE PEOPLE
63rd St. Mat. Hall, bet. 6th & 7th
SHUFFLE ALONG
PUNCH & JUDY
THE NEIGHBORHOOD PLAYHOUSE CO. in
"THE HARLEQUINADE"
"A NIGHT AT AN INN"
REVOLI MAY MacAVOY
RIALTO WANDA HAWLEY
CRITERION THOS. MEIGHAN
Greenwich Village Theatre, T. Ave. 4th St.
Audrey Munson
in "NEEDLESS MOTHS"
MOVES TO THE FRAZEE WEST 42nd St. SUN. EVE.
Loew's New York Theatre & Roof
Cont. 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. Roof to 1 A. M.
FRANK MAYO
Loew's American Music 42nd St. W. of 7th
Pauline Frederick
Minstrel Monarchs, Maurice Samuels
All Seats & Co., Show & Late, Minor & Extras. Reserved
MARK D. W. GRIFFITH'S
BWAY, 47TH ST. Strand Symphony Orchestra.
SUNDAY, ANITA STEWART
in "SOWING THE WIND."
CAPITOL
"The Ten Dollar Raise"
COLUMBIA
ALL NEW Peek-a-Boo
MALCOLM STRAUSS PHOTO DRAMA
THE TWICE BORN WOMAN
HIPODROME, NEXT WED. NIGHT
PALACE
ETHEL BARRYMORE
Ruth Royce, Jack Donahue
G. C. & Co., Harland Dixon & Co.
MALCOLM STRAUSS PHOTO DRAMA
THE TWICE BORN WOMAN
HIPODROME, NEXT WED. NIGHT
LUNA Pryor's Band
CONY ISLAND Free Dancing, Free Circus
STEEPLECHASE
THE FUNNY PLACE

The White Star Fleet

White Star service—standard of ocean comfort—maintains a single quality and excellence aboard every ship of our splendid fleet.

This flawless service has made the Olympic's international reputation. It has made the Adriatic a synonym for solid comfort on the sea, and has brought to the Baltic, Celtic, Canopic, Cretic, Megantic and Canada the standing among travelers which every captain would like to have his vessel attain.

One reason for this excellence is the White Star tradition of reward for merit and consideration for the human needs of its personnel. Veteran and loyal service makes for your cheery comfort. White Star and White Star-Dominion ships land you at Southampton, Cherbourg, Liverpool and Mediterranean Ports.

It is still possible to obtain excellent midsummer and autumn bookings despite the travel congestion.

TO MANY PORTS

You enjoy on the Red Star and American Lines, at moderate rates, service associated with White Star excellence. Red Star ships stop at Plymouth for England, Cherbourg for France, and Antwerp for the Continent. White Star-Dominion Line sailings from Montreal and Quebec to Liverpool take you over the beautiful St. Lawrence River route. The American Line direct service to Hamburg via Cherbourg. Our offices and agencies, without obligation, will about sailing arrangements, rates and routes. Interesting booklet free.

WHITE STAR LINE

AMERICAN LINE RED STAR LINE
INTERNATIONAL MERCANTILE MARINE COMPANY
9 Broadway, New York